

Medieval Walls

Lucy loved to chant and wail along the city's pilgrim trail shaking her cockleshell rattle randomly scattering both geese and cattle within the city's stoical walls

John loved to protect the city's walls on his watch his arrows speeding as the curfew calls slicing through the air randomly scattering enemies like potted shards

Ben loved his Chester market stall selling bread within the city's walls burning gorse to bake his bread randomly scattering flames through Gorstack's burning patch
